Removal of the State Geologist.

The judiciary committee has had under consideration the memorial of E. Daniels, State Geologist, and the Report of the special committee to which the same was referred, and the majority begs leave to make the following report:

Your committee fully concurs in the conclusions arrived at in the report of the said special committee, and has arrived at the same conclusion, that the executive of this state had no authority to remove Mr. Daniels from the office of State Geologist, and that no vacancy having existed at the time of the appointment of Professor James G. Percival, his appointment was void, and that Edward Daniels is yet, in law, State Geologist for the State of Wisconsin.

Your committee respectfully present the following considerations in the premises:

The first question to be determined is, whether the position of Mr. Daniels under his appointment as state geologist was that of a person holding an office in fact or whether it is or was a position merely often employment for the performance of certain specific duties. If the latter, then by the law of contracts binding equally between the State through the Governor as its agent, and Mr. Daniels, as between individuals, the employer has no right or authority to interfere or to embarrass the employee in the performance of his labor or his duties, so long as the employee is laboring diligently to do that, which by the terms of the contract and the nature of his duties he undertook to do. And the employee hath his right to continue in his employment until its duties are all fulfilled, using all due diligence; and he hath also his right to his full compensation for the same, as prescribed by the terms of his employment, when he has fulfilled on his part.

But your committee deem the relation of Mr. Daniels, acting under his commission, something more than an employment, to-wit, an office, and Mr. Daniels an officer. In legal parlance, there is a difference between an office and an employment, although every office is an employment but there are employments which do not come under the denomination of office. If Mr. Daniels had been employed or appointed by a private individual for private purposes, to make a Geological survey of the State of Wisconsin, his place would have been simply that of an employee and not that of an officer, but where his duties are, by their character, and by the source of his authority, of a public nature and concern the public, he is an officer in fact and in law, to be treated as such. Your committee can in no wise better elucidate this position than by a recitation of the common law rule in its own language, to-wit: "It is said that the word officium principally implies a duty, and, in the next place, a charge of such duty, &c." "There is a difference between an office and an employment, every office being an employment; but there are employments which do not come under the denomination of offices. such as an agreement to make hay, &c." "Officers are distinguished into civil and military, according to the nature of their trusts." "Offices are distinguished into those which are of public, and those which are of private nature; and herein it is said, that every man is a public officer who hath any duty concerning the public; and he is not the less of a public officer where his authority is confined to narrow limits; because it is the duty of his office, and the nature of the duty which makes him a public officer, and not the extent of his authority."

The law here recited can only be abrogated by legislative enactment. Your committee think it not out of place to recite another quotation from the common law, while moreover it is deemed only incidentally applicable to the case in question, and not in anywise affecting Mr. Daniels, viz: "By the ancient common law, officers ought to be honest men, legal and sage, et qui melius scire et exponi officia illi intenduntur; and this, says my Lord Coke, was the policy of prudent antiquity that officers did ever give grace to the place, and not the place only to grace the officer." The only mode of determining the rights of the respective parties in such cases, where there is no municipal rule prescribed, is by common law authority, the rules of which have governed in all courts and places in the territory of Wisconsin previous to to the formation of the constitution of the state, except where provision was otherwise made by the act of congress or by the legislature; and in section 13 of article 14 of our state constitution, it is expressly provided that, "such parts of the common law as are now in force in the territory of Wisconsin, not inconsistent with this constitution, shall be and continue part of the law of this state until altered or suspended by the legislature." The office of state geologist is a thing which lies in grant, and the deed is executed to Mr. Daniels when his appointment is made, and commission issued by the proper authority.

Section 1 of an act approved March 25, 1853, "providing for the geological survey of the state," says: "The Governor of this State is hereby authorized, as soon as may be after this act shall take effect, to appoint a State geologist, who shall be a person of competent scientific and practical knowledge of the science of geology and mineralogy; and the said State geologist, shall by and with the consent of the Governor, appoint one suitable person to assist him in the discharge of his duties, who shall be a skillful analytical and experimental chemist." So far as the act gives any authority to the Governor, it is confined to the appointment of the State geologist; to consenting to the appointment of an assistant: to depositing in the cabinet of the university "such specimens of the rocks, ores, coals, soils, fossils and other mineral substances discovered and examined, properly labelled, as may be proper and necessary to form a complete cabinet of specimens of geology and mineralogy of the state as the same are forwarded to him, from time to time, during the progress of the survey, and to directing as to the expenditure of the sum of two thousand dollars annually, appropriated for the term of four years, for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of the act. Beyond these, by the terms of the act itself, the Governor has no authority conferred, and has no right to interfere in any manner whatever.

The office of Governor is of constitutional creation, and he can exercise no authority or power except such as the constitution, or constitutional legislative enactment gives him. There is no power in any officer created, beyond the power conferred, except such as are necessary in the performance of prescribed duties. He may fill vacancies in certain offices, for that is prescribed duty, but he cannot create a vacancy to lose the law authorizes it. There are cases where vacancies may be created, or may arise in an office where no other provision is made: one is by death, one by resignation, and the other by forfeiture. It is contended that the power to appoint carries with it by necessary implication, a power to remove. That is well enough as a theoretical proposition, but with all due deference, the committee submit that it will not do to apply it to universal practice. A Governor in case of vacancy can appoint a Judge, but he could not of his own will and act impeach or remove one. A justice or preacher may perform the office of marriage, but could not divorce; he may forge a claim which he cannot break, may do an act he cannot undo. But in this case the question cannot arise. It is one in which a mere arbitrary act of the Governor in making a removal, or in undertaking to make one, cannot create a vacancy. The power to remove is wanting, the act is void.

To go back a little, your committee submit three more cases in which vacancies might occur, when no other provision exists, to-wit—one by resignation, and one by forfeiture, death, one [illegible] from the common law rules upon this subject, contrary to the general that if an officer acts contrary to the nature and duty of his office, or if he fails to act at all, that in those cases the office is forfeited." Again—"There are, says my Lord Coke, three causes of forfeiture or seizures of offices by matter in deed. 1st, by abuser; 2d, non user; 3d, by refusal." Your committee respectfully submit, that at the time of the pretended removal of Mr. Daniels, from the office of state geologist, he was not dead; and judging from the evidence before it, that he had not abused his office; that he had not failed to use it, that he had not refused to use it. Where the statute or constitution prescribes a limit to the exercise of powers in any given department, any act beyond the limit is no unwarranted assumption and is void. Where the statute gives the Governor specific authority to remove in certain stated cases, he must be confined in his acts to the cases stated in the statute and cannot in law exercise the same power in cases not stated. No argument can make these positions clearer than the naked propositions themselves. There being nothing in the act providing for the appointment of a state geologist, authorizing a removal from office, it remains to determine whether there is any general law giving such authority, there being none in the constitution, discovered by your committee.

Section 9 of chapter 2 of the revised statutes, provides that "all officers who are or shall be appointed by the Governor for a certain time, or to supply a vacancy, may be removed by him." In this case there was no vacancy until the Governor undertook to make one, and as your committee believes not then. He could not by an arbitrary act create one, simply for the sake of filling it—Question, was Mr. Daniels appointed to his office "by the Governor for a 'certain time?'"—There can be one answer. The act itself fixes no certain time, and the appointment must be in conformity to the act. The last half of section 7, says, that "The salaries of the said state geologist and his assistant, shall not, however, commence until they have respectively entered upon the execution of their duties. And upon the completion of said survey, and of the duties connected therewith, the same shall wholly cease and determine." Here is the whole question.—In any event the office continues until the completion of the survey and the duties connected therewith, and the salaries cease at that completion, and in the opinion of your committee, Mr. Daniels is entitled to the emoluments and bound to do its services and duties, subject only to death, resignation, or forfeiture, so long as the office itself continues to be an office. The only limitation as to time either of service or salary, is when the work is completed, and the act fixes no certain time when that shall be. Moreover, your committee is constrained to believe that it was the intention of the Legislature, from the peculiar character of the services to be performed, to make no provision whereby any person might unnecessarily interfere with such services.

The Geologist is required by the act itself, in dependent of what the science requires, with accuracy and minuteness to make a through geological and mineralogical survey of this State, with a view to determine the order, succession, arrangement, relative position, dip or inclination, and comparative magnitude of the several strata, or geological formations within this State, and to discover and examine all beds or deposites of ore, coal, clay, and such mineral and earthy substances as may be useful or valuable, and to perform such other duties as may be necessary to make a full and complete geological and mineralogical survey of the State." It is also the duty of the assistant, "to make full and complete examinations, assays, analyses of all such rocks, ores, soils and other substances as may be submitted to him by the State Geologist for that purpose, and to furnish him with a detailed and complete account of the results so obtained." In the opinion of your committee, the result sought cannot be obtained in a month or a year, and perhaps may require examination and investigation for a series of years of patient, constant toil and research. The employment is such that the only who makes the examinations, tries the experiments and makes the necessary surveys, can satisfactorily report as required by the law, the results so desirable to be attained. It is in a science where each successive step well taken opens the way for further and more important successive developments. No one man can report except upon the results of his own examination, because no man can know without observation what another has discovered or upon what his conclusions are based. One geologist can not commence a survey of this State where another has left off, but if there were a score of men appointed, each by himself, each must travel the same ground, make the same examinations, complete his survey, and make his independent report. So geological surveyors might be indefinitely multiplied, each holding his place for a limited time, subject to the will, whim, caprice or pretext of the appointing power, and the result, intended by the act, never be realized.

It is one of those cases where the scientific pursuit should not be retarded or stayed by any unnecessary interference, either from personal motives, individual preferences or prejudices, or for party purposes. Scientific pursuits can know no party rule, or be successfully prosecuted against injudicious interruptions. If the executive has the power to remove at pleasure, each successive turn of the political wheel places the official incumbent at the mercy of the successful candidate for gubernatorial honors, and upon the modern popular doctrine that "to the victors belong the spoils," the incumbent of the office of state geologist must give place to some greedy aspirant, and each successive state geologist begins his survey and examination where his predecessor began, ends where his predecessor ended, and in his turn gives place to a successor who follows directly in the same road, and the end and only end must be that science suffers, the public money is squandered without an equivalent returned, and the state receives no benefit from the useless and wasteful expenditure of its bountiful provision. Your committee cannot consent to believe that any such state of things was intended by this act of the legislature.

Your committee fully believe that either Mr. Percival or Mr. Daniels are and were abundantly competent to perform all that is required by the action the legislature providing for the survey, and that if Mr. Percival had been the man first selected, his removal for the purpose of appointing Mr. Daniels, would have been equally unwise and unauthorized. Mr. Percival is a man whose life has been devoted to literary and scientific pursuits. He rejoices in a fame as broad as the whole land, and where ever science is appreciated or poetry read, his name is like a household word. Mr. Daniels is a younger man, of rare, discriminating mind, of thorough education; ardent and energetic in this, his favorite science and pursuit, whose capacity is endorsed by the able committee of the last legislature, and by the ablest scholars and geologists in the older states; reaching after fame only as a well deserved reward of indefatigable labor, research, discovery, and improvement in the great experiment of compelling old nature to unlock her mysteries for the benefit of mankind. Either is altogether competent and neither first appointed should give place to the other, and the law in no wise warrants such a proceeding. Your committee therefore, believing that Mr. Daniels is not dead; that he did not forfeit his office; that he is not incapacitated by physical or mental disability, or by partial or confirmed habits of dissipation, which might work forfeiture of his office, believe him to be still the state geologist for the state of Wisconsin, and recommend the passage of a bill providing for the payment of his salary, and for the further prosecution of the survey which he had so wisely and satisfactorily commenced.

A. W. RANDALL, Ch'n.

WHAT ABOLITIONISTS ARE MAD AT.—The Hartford Courant says, "Mr. GILLETTE, our Senator, sits near to TOOMBS of Georgia, and they frequently pass a good-humored joke. A few mornings ago, just before the Senate was called to order, while several of the members were standing near, TOOMBS said to GILLETTE, 'They say, GILLETTE, that you abolitionists are mad with the Almighty for making the niggers black.' 'Your informant is slightly mistaken,' replied GILLETTE; 'we are mad at you slaveholders for making them white.' The allusion to the bleaching process that is going on among the colored population of the South was at once understood by all, and TOOMBS joined with much good humour in the general laugh.

MOCK PHILANTHROPY.—The News, by way of showing that nobody's sympathies but its own flow in the proper channel, cites two cases of suffering and sorrow from the city items of the Sentinel and Wisconsin, with this humane and characteristic comment:

Oh, if this "starved" child, and "battered" woman had only been——black!

Why then, the News would never have mentioned either.

IN ERROR.—The Sentinel of this morning says we were mistaken in stating that a child died of starvation in the Second Ward. Our authority was the City Physician, who said there was nothing the matter with the child but sheer hunger and want. We regret that it is a fact, but it is so nevertheless.—Wisconsin.

We still hope and believe that the Wisconsin was mistaken. The City Physician Dr. CATALL and the Superintendent of the Poor, who attended to the case, assured us that the child died from other causes than want of food.

OUR PUBLIC BUILDING.—Among the proceedings in the U. S Senate, on the 1st instant, we find the following item:

Mr. Dodge, of Wisconsin called up the bill changing the appropriation for erecting a building at Milwaukee for a custom-house, post-office, and U. S. courts. Passed.

MAIL CONTRACT LET TO JANESVILLE AND MADISON.—We learn that the Post office Department have awarded the Mail contract from Milwaukee to Janesville and Madison, to the Mil. & Miss. R. R. Co. at $60 per mile. A mail is to be carried once per day each way.

Charity Festival—Meeting To-Night.

We desire to remind our readers that a meeting is to be held at Young's Hall to-night to make arrangements for a Charity Festival, or Ball, in aid of the suffering poor of our City. There are many families in our midst who lack, not the comforts only, but the necessaries of life; and whose scanty clothing, spare food and wretched habitations invest winter with ten-fold terror. There are too, happily, the means and the will in our city to supply the wants and relieve the sufferings of these destitute ones. It is among the principal objects of the proposed movement to secure the means and unite and organize the efforts necessary to this end. Surely therefore such man's own humane and benevolent impulses will be prompting enough to come to the meeting to-night.

Police Court—Feb. 9.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH ESQ. POLICE JUSTICE.

A man named Alexander Mathieson was brought up by Peter, for violating the bridge ordinance, in driving over Walkers Point Bridge faster than a walk. The defendant waived a trial and paid the penalty of $2,00.

A search warrant was issued to recover a feather bed, claimed to have been stolen. The applicant stated to the Police Justice that the bed had been taken by some one, he didn't know who, but after the officer had served the warrant and brought the bed into court, it turned out that it was taken by complainant's wife, so the case was dismissed under the direction of the District Attorney.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The Circuit Court, Judge Hubbel presiding commences its February Term on Monday morning. The criminal business is light compared with former terms. The Grand Jury are summoned for Monday morning.

A BRIGHT WINTER'S DAY.—The sunshine yesterday, was brilliant; the atmosphere clear, and the temperature agreeably cool. For the first time in two or three weeks, the snow thawed in the sun and for two or three hours before and after midday, the side-walks were sloppy. But as evening approached the frost dried and stiffened the crust rapidly.

As the season advances, the accumulated masses of snow, along the edges of the side-walks must dissolve under the sun's rays and will, unless removed, keep the walks flooded The Street Commissioners would do well, therefore, to employ men and teams to remove these snow-deposites now and dump them on the ice in the river.

VALENTINES.—We call the attention to the advertisement of H. Niedecken & Co., of their extensive stock of Valentines, of all sorts and sizes. The time is now at hand for circulating these notes of good will, and Mr. Niedecken offer to supply them at prices less than any other house in the city.

LARGE BOILER.—Messrs. Cummings and Goodrich have just completed and sent on its way, a large Boiler weighing 6,151 lbs. for David Brown of Oshkosh, for his steam saw mill in that village. They are prepared to manufacture Boilers of any dimensions in the shortest notice warranting their work. They invite the citizens of Oshkosh and vicinity to examine the Boiler just sent there and judge of its workmanship.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—Mr. Caleb Wall sold yesterday lots 1 and 4, block 11, Sherman's Addition, Second Ward, for $900 cash The same property, a year ago, could not have brought over $600.

The Meeting Last Night.

The public meeting at Young's Hall last night on the subject of the Rescue trials was not numerously and respectably attended, not by our own citizens only, but by large numbers from this and adjoining Counties. WILLIAM A. PRENTISS presided, and F. W. DEBERARD, of Racine, and A. H. BELFIELD, of this city, acted as Secretaries.

A Committee, consisting of Messrs. RUFUS KING and OSMOND BAILY, of this city, Dr. SIMON and Mr. GEO. S. WRIGHT, of Racine, and the HON. DAVID TAYLOR, of Sheboygan, reported a series of resolutions, which were unanimously adopted. Spirited addresses were made by Messrs R. W. SMITH, WATKINS, BYRON PAINE, S. M. BOOTH, TWEEDY, and others. The Meeting was protracted till a late hour, and the utmost enthusiasm characterized all the proceedings.—Want of space compels us to defer a full report till our next.

THE SOUL'S CRY.

From out the agony of years,
Their dust, and sweat, and bitter tears,
Comes the Soul's cry.
Wild thro' dun clouds of dark despair,
Rattles that voice to upper air,—
Strives to be free.

My wings are chained with chains of Earth,
And I with Life, to death, from birth
Am prisoner long.
Fret with thy cage; urge God like ware;
Break, if thou canst, thy prison bars!
Ah! Earth is strong

When I grow weary of my house,
And 'gond the mists that sheen I see close,
Would farther see—
The bitter waters blind my sight
Through eyes of flesh, no purging light
Transfigures life to me.

Disordered darkness round me lies;
O'er my chained strength, immoving skies
Chafe like raw waves.
I feel a land beyond the night—
I own a sphere, whose liquid light
My vision laves.

Oh, bond man Life! thou slave of clay!
Sunder my weary ties away,
Or down to thee—
Down to thy dust and kindred night,
Drag me, and quench my feeble light
Eternally.

Thou watcher on the tower of Life!
No longer wage unceasing strife,
But yield to Fate;
Nor hope in one wild soaring flight,
To reach those realms, supernal bright,
Beyond the gate.

Descend, and from initial ground,
Build up thy ladder, round by round,
In faithful length.
Shrink not from self with coward fear;
From trial, draw a balm to cheer—
From weakness, strength.

Live not within, but ever out;
Thy strength that grows with every bout,
Is not thine own.
Lend all men thee, and thou them, power;
A revelation give to every hour,
Before 'tis flown

Shoulder thy burdens without moan.
The truth that nobly braves, alone
Deserves relief.
Gird up thy loins; convert each scourge
Into a staff, that shall thee urge
Up to reprieve.

Till when thou'st reached thy highest climb—
True watchman, on the tower of Time
Thou stand'st at last;—
Thou may'st, removed from storm and blight,
Serenely gaze adown the height,
On perils past.

☞ The News complains that the Sentinel does not call upon somebody else to prove the fabrication relative to the "Hottentot" outrage at the Jail. It will be quite time enough to do so when the News admits its inability to prove the charge which it was the first to make, and when anybody else assumes the responsibility which the News now seems so anxious to disclaim.

RAILROAD MEETING.—At a meeting of the stock subscribers of the M. & M. R. R., of Green county and vicinity, at Monroe, J. H. Bridge, Brooks Dunwiddie and David C. Bridge were nominated for Directors to be supported at the annual meeting, to come off in this city on the 13th inst. The Sentinel says the meeting was fully attended, and nearly eleven thousand votes were cast.

The Chicago Railroads.

From the Free Press, Feb. 8.

GALENA AIR LINE.—No news whatever.—Of the others we have a much more favorable account to give.

CHICAGO AND AURORA.—A train came in from Mendota yesterday and one will leave "on time" for Lasalle this morning. This is capital news.

CHICAGO AND MISSISSIPPI.—We have been kindly furnished with the following dispatches by Mr. Darling the general agent for this city:

St. Louis, Feb. 7.

The Winchester will leave to-morrow morning on time. WM. THOMAS

Bloomington, Feb. 7.

Hope to get to-day's train for Chicago through, Can't say positively. R. P. MORGAN.

We learn that a large force left Joliet yesterday determined to meet Mr. Morgan with his party coming north. Strong hopes are entertained by Mr. Darling that he will be able to send out a train for St. Louis this evening, if indeed he is not able to send out one this morning.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL.—We are without any news in reference to the clearing of the track on this road south of Lasalle. If the weather continues favorable it will in all probability be cleared to-day, certainly to-morrow.

The Chicago Branch is open to Kankakee; C. H. Comstock, Esq., came in yesterday in fine style with three locomotives, and a train will leave this morning expecting to reach Urbana.

All the other roads are running their regular passenger trains, and several of them are beginning to put on their freight trains and there is now a fair prospect that all the trains will be running as usual by Monday.

SENATOR WEST.—We received a letter from this gentleman announcing the election of Mr. CHARLES DURKEE to the Senate of the United States.

We are heartily glad that the Senatorship has fallen upon one that has been tried and not found wanting. He will go to the Senate with the full confidence of the freemen of Wisconsin, that in him the cause of liberty will meet no unsaisin hand.—[Monroe (Green Co.) Sentinel.

SCREAMING is superb—never was better—and well are the people improving it. All seems to be deriving profit (either pleasure or pecuniary gain) from the bountiful supply of snow with which we are favored. The farmer is procuring his lumber with which to build his house or barn, the ensuing season—the fencing materials, with which to enclose that portion of terra firma of which he is lord and sole proprietor. The mechanic is procuring his stock for the summer, while the snow remains because he can do so more conveniently, and at less expense. All are active—the stores, the hotels, the mechanic shops, all are filled with customers. Who ever heard of such a harvest resulting from a snow storm? —[Weekly Jeffersonian, Feb. 8.

TWEEDLE WEED.—This distinguished editor, and most estimable man, in speaking of the re election of Mr. Seward to the U. S. Senate, uses language respecting himself, that thousands of Whigs in this state will feel to be true. He says:

"Personally, the writer of this article has no more interest in this question than any elector in our great commonwealth. Without ambition or aspirations for place of power, his only wish and aim is, as soon as may be, to find exemption from responsibilities and cares which younger and abler sentinels are ready to assume. The repose which is desired and needed will be cheered by the remembrance that he has endeavored to secure for the people through the instrumentality of good men, the blessings of good government."

The good wishes of all the friends of Free Politics—of all who have abided social and political Progress in the Empire State, will follow Thurlow Weed into private life. The People of New York will one day do him full justice. His history, if ever truthfully written, will be the portraiture of a wise citizen, a profound politician, a just and generous man, and an admirable Editor.—[Buffalo Democracy.

THE PEBBLES CASE.—The Jury in this case last evening, brought in a verdict that PEBBLES was of sound mind. His execution, therefore will take place on the 9th of February instant—a week hence to-morrow.—[Albany Evening Atlas, Feb. 1st.

The Telegraph, brings us the news of Wilson's election to the Senate of the United States. The rejoicing among the Whigs and Republicans it would do you good to witness. Another vote against Slavery extension; another vote for the repeal of the Fugitive Slave act, and another vote for Emancipation in the District of Columbia, are among the anticipated fruits of this election. All these questions will come up before the close of the present Congress,

The details will be found in the Telegraph head. The siege of Sebastopol is still up to the 14th January, though but little new explained, or even attempted, during the season stronghold, beyond what was done within a week after it was invested.—The Allied army suffers dreadfully from sickness, privation and cold. Large re-inforcements have reached he Crimea, and the Russians are breaking up and the Turks at Eupatoria are both preparing to assume the offensive. The conferences at Vienna have resulted in nothing as yet but promise and pie crust for the future. Austria continues her warlike preparations and Russia her threats.

France seems hearty and unanimous in backing up Napoleon. In England, the popular sentiment at the slow progress and alleged mismanagement of the War has led to a partial rupture of the Aberdeen Ministry. Breadstuffs have declined still further, and, probably, in the dissolution of the Aberdeen Ministry. Breadstuffs have declined still further, and, probably, in the dissolution of the Aberdeen Ministry. Consols declined, and money is tighter and on the last advices—all warlike. From Spain, we have the rumor of another revolution impending. Spain is a country of ruins.

☞ The Madison mail, for some reason, did not come by the noon train, yesterday, and our copy thereof we, failed to reach us till so late last night that we were obliged to defer it till our next issue. We have the abstract of Thursday's proceedings from Madison only.

The State Geologist.

This morning, the able report of Dr. W. W. Daniels, from the Judiciary Committee, upon the petition of Mr. Daniels, the Geologist, claiming that he had been unlawfully deposed of his office by the arbitrary action of the Governor, and asking legislative relief in the premises. The question is well argued in the report, and few, we think, will dissent from the conclusions arrived at by the Committee.

☞ For the Abstract of Revenue Bill.—A Synopsis of this important bill will be found in our columns this morning. It is before the Legislature and will be acted on before the adjournment. It is to be hoped that it will be received as early and favorable consideration.

From Dodge County.—In Thursday's issue of the Sentinel we copied a paragraph from the Fox River Argus of the 2d instant, to the effect that the dead bodies of two boys, reported as having been found in a tamarack swamp in Theresa, owned by Mr. Jerseal, were those of Philander Bullock, who is now in our midst, and that the story was wholly unfounded. The boys are safe at home, alive and well.—Their escape, however, a narrow escape. It seems that the boys, 7 and 9 years old respectively, were French parents named Bullock, left the house on a Friday afternoon, about noon, to gather gum in the tamarack swamp. The younger brother had no cap. They got lost. But they took with them an axe, with which they built a fire, and made their bed on the ground—which, by the cold grew intense and the little fellows must have suffered severely. When night came the elder proposed to start for home, but the younger could not move. Accordingly they remained where they were all that night and the next night. Early Sunday morning they found a strength to move and after a long walk, they reached the house of a Mr. Gerrard, named Meyer, on the Rock river, who warmed, fed and clothed them, and as soon as they were fit to travel took them to Mr. Jerseal at Theresa, by whom they were restored to their parents.

☞ The Improvement of the Ohio River.—The Pittsburgh Board of Trade have forwarded printed circulars to this city, to which they ask the support of our merchants and Business men, asking a request to pass a bill for the improvement of the Ohio River. Those of our Merchants who have had the experience of last year, when goods for Pittsburgh were so long delayed, by reason of the navigation of the Ohio, will need no urging to sign these memorials.

Strange, at Last.—The Racine Democrat does not grieve over the defeat of its political friend, the choice of U. S. Senator to the exclusion of Mr. Durkee, in the election to the Senate of the United States. In the State are two or three who might have preferred, but more and more renown for even the men we allude to have probably have rested on the qualities of head and heart, and ability rather than on their fitness for the office, and in the office itself, in refusing to have a man whom all acknowledge to be pure in heart.

Death of a Venerable Man.—The death of Col. Pinkerton, Esq., 5th Auditor, of the Treasury, who for years, and years had the supervision of the Light House Department, and the organization of the Coast Survey was announced from Washington. His age is said to have been 80 or over.

The Post Office at Troy was one of the landmarks of the country, and was erected of the Federal Government—the first application. He first received office as a Federal Government in Philadelphia,—then was moved with it to Washington,—where he held it, one of the first and oldest of the new States, and where he has lived for a century.

Three Bank Failures in New York.

It is announced by the Albany Atlas that the banking house of N. B. Kidder, at Geneva has suspended payment. Liabilities $200,000. It is said that the Bank of Batchbridge has also suspended payment, and that the Bank of Hornellsville remains discredited in consequence of its connection with both of the above failures. The Atlas learns that the circulation of these banks is amply secured by the deposits in the Banking Department.

Where Liberty is Left to Itself.—The Oshkosh Democrat says that "democracy" in Wisconsin is not dead yet," and proceeds to say:

"The Democratic party is not yet extinct in Wisconsin as the vote given for Harrison G. Reed and F. G Ryan most fully demonstrates. The question remains to be counted, we believe, which, according to the Constitution is entitled of "genuine democrats" in the next legislature. All who voted for Messrs. Reed, Dorr &c., the Carmine rules outright. We shall see whether the party in Wisconsin is dead or only in a large discount.

Sheep Stealing.—Mr. Tyng, of Peoria county, was on Friday last, of 20,000 should-ers and 10,000 sides, as they packed.

In Committee of the whole, 30 bills and memorials were disposed of.

An impudent Message from the Governor was received, abusing the Assembly for its resolutions of inquiry so far adopted, and taunting it with refusing to investigate.

Mr. Randall made an able and severe speech on the subject, and the communication was referred to a select committee with instructions. Adjourned. W. H. W.

Removal of the State Geologist.

The judiciary committee has had under consideration the memorial of E. Daniels, State Geologist, and the Report of the special committee to which the same was referred, and the majority beg leave to make the following report:

Your committee fully concurs in the conclusions arrived at in the report of the said special committee, and has arrived at the same conclusion, that the executive of this state had no authority to remove Mr. Daniels from the office of State Geologist, and that no vacancy having existed at the time of the appointment of Professor James G. Percival, his appointment was void, and that Edward Daniels is yet, in law, State Geologist for the State of Wisconsin.

Your committee respectfully present the following considerations in the premises:

The first question to be determined is, whether the position of Mr. Daniels under his appointment as state geologist was that of a person holding an office in fact or whether it is or was a position merely of an employment for the performance of certain specific duties. If the latter, then by the law of contracts binding equally between the State through the Governor as its agent, and Mr. Daniels, as the other individual, the employer has no right or authority to interfere or to embarrass the employee in the performance of his labor or his duties, so long as the employee is laboring diligently to do that, which, by the terms of the contract and the nature of his duties he undertook to do. And the employee hath his right to continue in his employment until its duties are all fulfilled, using all due diligence; and he hath also his right to his full compensation for the same, as prescribed by the terms of his employment, when he has fulfilled on his part.

But your committee deem the relation of Mr Daniels, acting under his commission, something more than an employment, to-wit, an office, and Mr. Daniels an officer. In legal parlance, there is a difference between an office and an employment, although every office is an employment but there are employments which do not come under the denomination of office. If Mr. Daniels had been employed or appointed by a private individual for private purposes, to make a Geological survey of the State of Wisconsin, his place would have been simply that of an employee and not that of an officer, but where his duties are, by their character, and by the source of his authority, of a public nature and concern the public, he is an officer in fact and in law, to be treated as such. Your committee can in no wise better elucidate this position than by a recitation of the common law rule in its own language, to-wit: "It is said that the word officium principally implies a duty, and, in the next place, a charge of such duty, &c.' 'There is a difference between an office and an employment, every office being an employment; but there are employments which do not come under the denomination of office, such as an agreement to make hay, &c.' 'Officers are distinguished into civil and military according to the nature of their trusts.' 'Officers are distinguished into those which are of public, and those which are of private nature; and herein it is said, that every man is a public officer who hath any duty concerning the public; and he is not the less of a public officer where his authority is confined to narrow limits; because it is the duty of his office, and the nature of the duty which makes him a public officer, and not the extent of his authority."

The law here recited can only be abrogated by legislative enactment. Your committee think it not out of place to recite another quotation from the common law, while moreover it is deemed only incidentally applicable to the case in question, and not in anywise affecting Mr. Daniels, viz: "By the ancient common law, officers ought to be honest men, legal and sage. et qui malitiæ non exponit officio illi intendere; and this, says my Lord Coke, was the policy of prudent antiquity that officers did ever give grace to the place, and not the place only to grace the officer." The only mode of determining the rights of the respective parties in such cases, where there is no municipal rule prescribed, is by common law authority, the rules of which have governed in all courts and places in the territory of Wisconsin previous to the formation of the constitution of the state, except where provision was otherwise made by the act of congress or by the legislature; and in section 13 of article 14 of our state constitution, it is expressly provided that, "such parts of the common law as are now in force in the territory of Wisconsin, not inconsistent with this constitution, shall be and continue part of the law of this state until altered or suspended by the legislature." The office of state geologist is a thing which has in grant, and the deed is executed to Mr. Daniels when his appointment is made, and commission issued by the proper authority.

Section 1 of an act approved March 25, 1853, "providing for the geological survey of the state," says: "The Governor of this State is hereby authorized, as soon as may be after this act shall take effect, to appoint a State geologist, who shall be a person of competent scientific and practical knowledge of the science of geology and mineralogy; and the said State geologist, shall by and with the consent of the Governor, appoint one suitable person to assist him in the discharge of this duties, who shall be a skillful analytical and experimental chemist." So far as the act gives any authority to the Governor, it is confined to the appointment of the State geologist; to consenting to the appointment of an assistant; to depositing in the cabinet of the university such specimens of the rocks, ores, coals, soils, fossils and other mineral substances discovered and examined, properly labelled, as may be proper and necessary to form a complete cabinet of specimens of geology and mineralogy of the state as the same are forwarded to him, from time to time, during the progress of the survey, and to directing as to the expenditure of the sum of two thousand dollars annually, appropriated for he term of four years, for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of the act. Beyond these, by the terms of the act itself, the Governor has no authority conferred, and has no right to interfere in any manner whatever.

The office of Governor is of constitutional creation, and he can exercise no authority or power except such as the constitution, or constitutional legislative enactment gives him. There is no power in any officer created, beyond the power conferred, except such as are necessary in the performance of prescribed duties. He may fill vacancies in certain offices, for that is a prescribed duty, but he cannot create a vacancy in law the law authorizes it. There are cases where vacancies may be created, or may arise in an office where no other provision is made; one is by death, one by resignation, and the other by forfeiture. It is contended that the power to appoint carries with it by necessary implication, a power to remove. That is well enough as a theoretical proposition, but with all due deference, the committee sub mit that it will not do to apply it to practice. A Governor in case of vacancy can appoint a Judge, but he could not go here will and not impeach or remove one. A justice or preacher may perform the office of marriage, but could not divorce; he may forge a claim which he cannot frank, may do and act he cannot undo. But in this case the question cannot arise. It is one in which a mere arbitrary act of the Governor in making a removal, or in undertaking to make one, cannot create a vacancy. I the power to remove is wanting, the act is void.

To go back a little, your committees submit three more cases in which vacancies might occur, to-wit: no other provision exists, to-wit—1st by resignation, and one by forfeiture. death, one [illegible] again from the coming Your committee is [illegible] law rules upon this subject, [illegible] to the nature and duty of his office, or if he fail act at all, then in those cases the office is forfeited. Again—There are, says our Lord Coke, three causes of forfeiture or seizure of offices by matter in deed. 1st, by abuse; 2d, non user; 3d, by refusal.' Your committee respectfully submit, that at the time of the pretended removal of Mr. Daniels, from the office of state geologist, he was not dead; and judging from the evidence before it, that he had not abused his office; that he had not failed to use it, that he had not refused to use it. Where the statute or constitution prescribes a limit to the exercise of powers in any given department, any act beyond the limit is an unwarranted assumption and is void. Where the statute gives the Governor specific authority to remove in certain stated cases, he must be confined in his acts to the cases stated in the statute and cannot in law exercise the same power in cases not stated. No argument can make these positions clearer than the naked propositions themselves. These being nothing in the act providing for the appointment of a state geologist, authorizing a removal from office, it remains to determine whether there is any general law giving such authority, there being none in the constitution, discovered by your committee.

Section 9 of chapter 2 of the revised statutes, provides that "all officers who are or shall be appointed by the Governor for a certain time, or to supply a vacancy, may be removed by him." In this case there was no vacancy until the Governor undertook to make one, and as your committee believes not then. He could not by an arbitrary act create one, simply for the sake of filling it—Question, was Mr. Daniels appointed to his office "by the Governor for a 'certain time?'"—"here can be one answer. The act itself fixes no certain time, and the appointment must be in conformity to the act. The last half of section 1, says, that "The salaries of the said state geologist and his assistant, shall not, however, commence until they have respectively entered upon the execution of their duties. And upon the completion of said survey, and of the duties connected therewith, the same shall wholly cease and determine." Here is the whole question.—In any event the office continues until the completion of the survey and the duties connected therewith, and the salaries cease at that completion, and in the opinion of your committee, Mr. Daniels is entitled to the emoluments and bound to do its services and duties, subject only to death, resignation, or forfeiture, so long as the office itself continues to be an office. The only limitation as to time either of service or salary, is when the work is completed, and the act fixes no certain time when that shall be. Moreover, your committee is constrained to believe that it was the intention of the Legislature, from the peculiar character of the services to be performed, to make no provision whereby any person might unnecessarily interfere with such services.

The Geologist is required by the act itself, in dependent of what the science requires, with accuracy and minuteness to make a through geological and mineralogical survey of this State, with a view to determine the order, succession, arrangement, relative position, dip or inclination, and comparative magnitude of the several strata, or geological formations within this State, and to discover and examine all beds or deposites of ores, coal, clay, and such mineral and earthy substances as may be useful or valuable, and to perform such other duties as may be necessary to make a full and complete geological and mineralogical survey of the State." It is also the duty of the assistant, "to make full and complete examinations, assays, analyses of all such rocks, ores, soils and other substances as may be submitted to him by the State Geologist for that purpose, and to furnish him with a detailed and complete account of the results so obtained." In the opinion of your committee, the result sought cannot be established in a month or a year, and perhaps may require examination and investigation for a series of years of patient, constant toil and research. The employment is such that he only, who makes the examinations, tries the experiments and makes the necessary surveys, can satisfactorily report as required by the law, the results so ascertainable to be attained. It is in a science where each successive step well taken opens the way for further and more important successive developments. No one man can report except upon the results of his own examination, because no man can know without observation what another has discovered or upon what his conclusions are based. One geologist can not commence a survey of this State where another has left off, but if there were a score of men appointed, each by himself, each must travel the same grounds make the same examinations, complete his survey, and make his independent report. So geological surveyors might be indefinitely multiplied, each holding his place for a limited time, subject to the will, whim, caprice or pretext of the appointing power, and the result, intended by the act, never be realized.

It is one of those cases where the scientific pursuit should not be retarded or stayed by any unnecessary interference, either from personal motives, individual preference or prejudices, or for party purposes. Scientific pursuits can know no party rule, or be successfully prosecuted against injudicious interruptions. If the executive has the power to remove at pleasure, each successive turn of the political wheel places the official incumbent at the mercy of the successful candidate for gubernatorial honors, and upon the modern popular doctrine that "to the victors belong the spoils," the incumbent of the office of state geologist must give place to some greedy aspirant, and each successive state geologist begins his survey and examination where his predecessor began, ends where his predecessor ended, and in his turn gives place to a successor who follows directly in the same road, and the end and only end must be that science suffers, the public money is squandered without an equivalent returned, and the state receives no benefit from the useless and wasteful expenditure of its bountiful provision. Your committee cannot consent to believe that any such state of things was intended by this act of the legislature.

Your committee fully believe that either Mr. Percival or Mr. Daniels are and were abundantly competent to perform all that is required by the action the legislature providing for the survey, and that if Mr. Percival had been the man first selected, his removal for the purpose of appointing Mr. Daniels, would have been equally unwise and unauthorized. Mr. Percival is a man whose life has been devoted to literary and scientific pursuits. He rejoices in a fame as broad as the whole land, and where ever science is appreciated or poetry read, his name is a household word. Mr. Daniels is a younger man, of rare, discriminating mind, of thorough education; ardent and energetic in this, his favorite science and pursuit, whose capacity is endorsed by the able committee of the last legislature, and by the ablest scholars and geologists in the older states; reaching after fame only as a well deserved reward of indefatigable labor, research, discovery, and improvement in the great experiment of compelling old nature to unlock her mysteries for the benefit of mankind. Either is altogether competent and neither first appointed should give place to the other, and the law in no wise warrants such a proceeding. Your committee therefore, believing that Mr. Daniels is not dead; that he did not forfeit his office; that he is not incapacitated by physical or mental disability, or by partial or confirmed habits of dissipation, which might work forfeiture of his office, believe him to be still the state geologist for the state of Wisconsin, and recommend the passage of a bill providing for the payment of his salary, and for the further prosecution of the survey which he had so wisely and satisfactorily commenced.

A. W. RANDALL, Chm.

What Abolitionists are Mad at.—The Hartford Courant says, "Mr. Gillette, our Senator, sits near to Toombs of Georgia, and they frequently pass a good-humored joke. A few mornings ago, just before the Senate was called to order, while several of the members were standing near, Toombs said to Gillette, 'They say, Gillette, that you abolitionists are mad with the Almighty for making the niggers black.' 'Your informant is slightly mistaken,' replied Gillette; 'we are mad at you slaveholders for making them white.' The allusion to the bleaching process that is going on among the colored population of the South was at once understood and Toombs joined with much good humour in the general laugh.

Mock Philanthropy.—The News, by way of showing that nobody's sympathies but its own flow in the proper channel, cites two cases of suffering and sorrow from the city items of the Sentinel and Wisconsin, with this humane and characteristic comment:

Oh, if this "starved" child, and "battered" woman had only been——black!

Why then, the News would never have mentioned either.

In Error.—The Sentinel of this morning says we were mistaken in stating that a child died of starvation in the Second Ward. The authority was the City Physician, who said there was nothing the matter with the child but sheer hunger and want. We regret that it is a fact, but it is so nevertheless.—Wisconsin.

We still hope and believe that the Wisconsin was mistaken. The City Physician Dr. Orrall, and the Superintendent of the Poor, who attended to the case, assured us that the child died from other causes than want of food.

Our Public Buildings.—Among the proceedings in the U. S Senate, on the 1st instant, we find the following item:

Mr. Dodge, of Wisconsin called up the bill changing the appropriation for erecting a building at Milwaukee for a custom-house, post-office, and U. S. courts. Passed.

Mail Contract Let to Janesville and Madison.—We learn that the Post office Department have awarded the Mail contract from Milwaukee to Janesville and Madison, to the [illegible] & Mis. R. R. Co. at $60 per mile. A mail is to be carried once per day each way.

Sheriff's Festival—Meeting To-Night.

We desire to remind our readers that a meeting is to be held at Young's Hall to-night to make arrangements for a Charity Festival, or Ball, in aid of the suffering poor of our City. There are many families in our midst who lack, not the comforts only, but the necessaries of life; and whose scanty clothing, spare food and wretched habitations invest winter with ten-fold terror. There are too, happily, the means and the will in our city to supply the wants and relieve the sufferings of these destitute ones. It is among the principal objects of the proposed movement to secure the means and unite and organize their efforts necessary to this end. Surely therefore each man's own humane and benevolent impulses will be prompting enough to come to the meeting to-night.

Police Court—Feb. 9.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH ESQ. POLICE JUSTICE.

A man named Alexander Mathieson was brought up by Peter, for violating the bridge ordinance, in driving over Walkers Point Bridge faster than a walk. The defendant waived a suit and paid the penalty of $2,00.

A search warrant was issued to recover a feather bed, claimed to have been stolen. The applicant stated to the Police Justice that the bed had been taken by some one, he didn't know who, but after the officer had served the warrant and brought the bed into court, it turned out that it was taken by complainant's wife, so the case was dismissed under the direction of the District Attorney.

Circuit Court.—The Circuit Court. Judge Hubbel presiding commences its February Term on Monday morning. The criminal business is light compared with former terms. The Grand Jury are summoned for Monday morning.

A Bright Winter's Day.—The sunshine, yesterday, was brilliant; the atmosphere clear, and the temperature agreeably cool. For the first time in two or three weeks, the snow thawed in the sun and for two or three hours before and after midday, the side-walks were sloppy. But as evening approached the frost dried and stiffened the crust rapidly.

As the season advances, the accumulated masses of snow, along the edges of the side-walks must dissolve under the sun's rays and will in a less removed, keep the walks flooded The Street Commissioners would do well, therefore, to employ men and teams to remove these snow-deposites now and dump them on the ice in the river.

Valentines.—We call the attention to the advertisement of H. Niedecken & Co., of their extensive stock of Valentines, of all sorts and sizes. The time is now at hand for circulating these notes of good will, and Mr. Niedecken offer to supply them at prices less than any other house in the city.

Large Boiler.—Messrs. Cummings and Goodrich have just completed and sent on its way, a large Boiler weighing 6,151 lbs. for David Brown of Oshkosh, for his steam saw mill in that Village. They are prepared to manufacture Boilers of any dimensions in the shortest notice warranting their work. They invite the citizens of Oshkosh and vicinity to examine the Boiler just sent there and judge of its workmanship.

The Chicago Railroads.

From the Free Press, Feb 5,

Galena Air Line.—No news whatever.—Of the others we have a much more favorable account to give.

Chicago and Aurora.—A train came in from Mendota yesterday and one will leave for that point for Lasalle this morning. This is capital news.

Chicago and Mississippi.—We have been kindly furnished with the following dispatches by Mr. Darling the general agent for this city:

St. Louis, Feb. 7.

The Winchester will leave to-morrow morning on time. Wm. Thomas

Bloomington, Feb. 7.

Hope to get to-day's train for Chicago through, Can't say positively. R. F. Morgan.

We learn that a large force left Joliet yesterday determined to meet Mr. Morgan with his party coming north. Strong hopes are entertained by Mr. Darling that he will be able to send out a train for St. Louis this evening, if indeed he is not able to send out one this morning.

Illinois Central.—We are without any news in reference to the clearing of the track on this road south of Lasalle. If the weather continues favorable it will in all probability be cleared to-day, certainly to-morrow.

The Chicago Branch is open to Kankakee; C. H. Comstock, Esq., came in yesterday in fine style with three locomotives, and a train will leave this morning expecting to reach Urbana.

All the other roads are running their regular passenger trains, and several of them are beginning to put on their freight trains and there is now a fair prospect that all the trains will be running as usual by Monday.

Senator Weir.—We received a letter from this gentleman announcing the election of Mr. Charles Durkee to the Senate of the United States.

We are heartily glad that the Senatorship has fallen upon one that has been tried and not found wanting. He will go to the Senate with the full confidence of the freemen of Wisconsin, that in him the cause of liberty will meet no assassin hand.—[Monroe (Green Co.) Sentinel.

Sleighing is superb—never was better—and well are the people improving it. All seems to be deriving profit (either pleasure or pecuniary gain) from the bountiful supply of snow with which we are favored. The farmer is procuring his lumber with which to build his house or barn, the ensuing season—the fencing materials, with which to enclose that portion of terra firma of which he is lord and sole proprietor. The mechanic is procuring his stock for the summer, and the snow remains because he can do so more conveniently, and at less expense. All are active—the stores, the hotels, the mechanic shops, all are filled with customers. Who ever heard of such a harvest resulting from a snow storm? —[Weekly Jeffersonian, Feb. 8.

Thurlow Weed.—This distinguished editor, and most estimable man, in speaking of the re election of Mr. Seward to the U. S. Senate, uses language respecting himself, that thousands of Whigs in this state will feel to be true. He says:

"Personally, the writer of this article has no more interest in this question than any elector in our great commonwealth. Without ambition or aspirations for place of power, his only wish and aim is, as soon as may be, to find exemption from responsibilities and cares which younger and abler sentinels are ready to assume. The repose which is desired and needed will be cheered by the remembrance that he has endeavored to secure for the people through the instrumentality of good men, the blessings of good government."

The good wishes of all the friends of Free Politics—of all who have sided social and political Progress in the Empire State, will follow Thurlow Weed into private life. The People of New York will one day do him full justice. His history, if ever truthfully written, will be the portraiture of a wise citizen, a profound politician, a just and generous man, and an admirable Editor.—[Buffalo Democracy.

The Phelps Case.—The Jury in this case last evening, brought in a verdict that Phelps was of sound mind. His execution, therefore will take place on the 9th of February instant—a week hence to-morrow.—[Albany Evening Atlas, Feb. 1st.

The Meeting Last Night.

The public meeting at Young's Hall last night on the subject of the Rescue trials was most numerously and respectably attended, not by our own citizens only, but by large numbers from this and adjoining Counties. William A. Prentiss presided, and F. W. DeBerard, of Racine, and A. H. Bielfeld, of this city, acted as Secretaries.

A Committee, consisting of Messrs. Reuss King and Osmond Bailey, of this city, Dr. Secor and Mr. Geo. S. Wright, of Racine, and the Hon. David Taylor, of Sheboygan, reported a series of resolutions, which were unanimously adopted. Spirited addresses were made by Messrs R. W. Smith, Watkins, Byron Paine, S. M. Booth, Tweedy, and others. The Meeting was protracted till a late hour, and the utmost enthusiasm characterized all the proceedings—Want of space compels us to defer a full report till our next.

THE SOUL'S CRY.

From out the agony of years,
Hate dust, and sweat, and bitter tears,
Comes the Soul's cry.

Wild thro' dun clouds of dark despair,
Rattles that voice to upper air,—
Strives to be free.

My wings are chained with chains of Earth,
And I with Life, to death, from birth
Am prisoner long.

First with thy cage; urge God like ware;
Break, if thou canst, thy prison bars!
Ah! Earth is strong

When I grow weary of my house,
And round the mists that shroud me close,
Would further see—

The bitter waters filled my sight
Through eyes of flesh, no purging light
Transfigures life to me.

Disordered darkness round me lies;
O'er my chained strength, immuring skies
Chafe like raw waves.

I feel a land beyond the sight—
I own a sphere, whose liquid light
My vision bares.

Oh, hand man Life! thou slave of clay!
Hinder my weary ties away,
Or down to thee—

Down to thy dust and kindred night,
Drag me, and quench my feeble light
Eternally.

Thou watcher on the tower of Life!
No longer wage unceasing strife,
But yield to Fate;

Nor hope in one wild soaring flight,
To reach those realms, supernal bright,
Beyond the gate.

Descend, and from initial ground,
Build up thy ladder, round by round,
In faithful length.

Shrink not from toil with coward fear;
From trial, draw a balm to cheer—
From weakness, strength.

Live not within, but ever out;
Thy strength that grows with every bout,
Is not thine own.

Lend all men thee, and thou them, power;
A revelation give to every hour,
Before 'tis flown

Shudder thy burdens without moan.
The truth that nobly leaves, alone
Deserves relief.

Gird up thy loins; convert each scourge
Into a staff, that shall thee urge
Up to reprieve.

'Till when thou'st reached thy highest climb—
True watchman, on the tower of Time
Thou stand'st at last;—

Then mag'st, removed from storm and blight,
Serenely gaze adown the height,
On perils past F. A. H.

From Washington.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.

Washington, Jan. 31.

The Telegraph, brings us the news of Wilson's election to the Senate of the United States. The rejoicing among the Whigs and Republicans it would do you good to witness. Another vote against Slavery extension; another vote for the repeal of the Fugitive Slave act, and another vote for Emancipation in the District of Columbia, are among the anticipated fruits of this election. All these questions will come up before the close of the present Congress, and they will never be allowed to sleep again until they are settled in favor of Freedom. The people of the North begin to hanker after such men as Henry Wilson, and the Union-savers of Boston and elsewhere may as well begin to acknowledge it, and act upon it.

The Public Sentiment.—We hear of meetings in all quarters, called to give expression to public sentiment on the matter of the Rescue trials, and to contribute to the payment of the fines imposed upon Messrs. Booth and Ryecraft. Near at home we may mention Rosendale, Waukau, and Liberty Prairie. Other meetings would have been held had not the action of the Supreme Court given rise to the expectation, that, so far as contributing to the payment of the fines was concerned, it was unnecessary to act at present.—[Ripon Herald.

Another Anti-Nebraska Gun.

The telegraph to day brings the gratifying news that Chas. Durkee, anti-Nebraska republican, is elected to the United States Senate from Wisconsin,

Mr. Durkee's majority was one.

Wisconsin, in view of her locofocoism, has done nobly.—[Cleaveland Herald.

IMPORTANT TO
Wholesale Grocers
AND TEA DEALERS.
JAMES KYLE, 114 Warren St., New York, furnishes to the trade all sizes of plain and fancy colored Tea Caddies, holding from 2 to 9 lbs., labelled, in imitation of the latest cargoes of green and black Teas, having every appearance of original packages, and being made neat and tight, and so that the smaller ones will nest in the larger ones, can be transported to any part of the country at a small expense. Merchants from the South and West would find the plan of putting up Teas at home much cheaper, and more satisfactory, than to have them re-packed in New York; and were the Tea put up in 5, 8, 10 and 15 lb packages, will sell more readily, and at a better price, than by the chest. Fancy painted, lacquered and gilded Caddies, and Chinese Images, beautiful for window show, are also furnished. Dealers will please call and examine as soon as they arrive in the city, that time may be had to get them up to order, in time to ship with other goods. List of Prices will be sent to any address, by mail, that may desire it.

I HAVE SEVERAL HOUSES IN THE FIRST Ward for sale on good terms, and I would advise those who wish to purchase a house to do so before Spring opens, for property must and will be 30 per cent higher. The demand for houses of the class of anything we have ever had, owing to the immense emigration from our own Eastern people. I receive letters every day, making enquiries about property, houses, &c.
I state these facts that any who have not yet obtained themselves a home, had better do so at once; and if they will not take my advice, they must abide the consequences
I have also a large number of choice Lots in the First Ward, which will be sold at fair prices and on easy terms. My Office, at present, is on Wisconsin st.

Spring Street, Opposite the American House,
A NEW
PIANO FORTE WARE-ROOM!
Where he will keep on hand a good assortment of the best rated
AMERICAN ACTION PIANO FORTES,
Manufactured by GEORGE HEWS, of Boston, Mass
The Great American Action Piano Forte is distinguished for its great fullness, richness and sweetness of tone, evenness of scale, and delicacy of touch. The improvement in the Action renders it less liable to derangement, and also greatly facilitates execution. Numerous medals, diplomas and certificates have been received from various fairs and industrial exhibitions in different cities of the Union, from the World's Fair at London, and flattering testimonials from the profession, residents at Boston and elsewhere, among which are the following:
From the Illustrious Pianist, L. M. GOTTSCHALK, to Mr HEWS, Agent at New York:
New York, Dec. 5, 1849.
Mr N. J CURTISS:—
Dear Sir. Having had the pleasure of performing upon two Hews' American Action Pianos, at the World's Fair in this city the present year, and other of his Pianos at your Warerooms, which afforded me much gratification, I cheerfully recommend them to the public. I am very glad of the improvement in the Action. These instruments likewise are of excellent tone, owing, no doubt, to the perfection of the scales
Very Respectfully, L. M. GOTTSCHALK.
From the distinguished Pianist, WILLIAM MASON:
Mr. HEWS:—Having repeatedly played upon the Piano Fortes manufactured by you, with the American Action, I am free to assure you, that for certainty and elasticity of action, power, purity and equality of tone, I have never seen them surpassed in the square Piano Forte.
WILLIAM MASON.
To purchasers and lovers of music in general, are respectfully invited to call and examine these instruments. These Pianos will be sold at Boston prices, and warranted to give satisfaction in every respect.

News by the Atlantic.
[REPORTED FOR THE SENTINEL.]
New York, Feb. 9—1 P. M.
The Atlantic reached her dock about 10½ A. M., with Liverpool dates of the 27th. She brings 51 passengers, among them Hon. N. P. Upham, of New Hamshire, and family.
The steamer Great Britain arrived at Liverpool with 350,000 pounds sterling in gold, from Australia. Her dates have been anticipated.
The chief interest of the news centers in the proceedings of the British Parliament, in which the Government has been denounced severely. Lor John Russell resigned his seat in the Cat net, and a total break of the Ministry is talk d of.
The Vienna Peace Conference will not meet until the middle of February.
Sebastopol dates are to the 14th of January. Nothing of moment had occured. The Russians had made to sorties, but were repulsed with considerable loss. The weather has been cold, but at the latest dates it was milder.
Considerable reinforcements were reaching the Allies. Liprandi had again advanced his ourposts to the Tchernaya.
Forty thousand Russians with 80 guns, are said to be preparing to attack Perekop. Letters state that the French had mined the Flag staff battery and only awaited a favorable opportunity to blow it up. Sickness in the camps was increasing and Menschikoff is reported to have said, "our troops may rest. Generals January, February and March will fight our battles far better than we can."
The Russians had repaired and re-occupied the quarantine fort. Gen. Brown was about to resume his command in the Crimea.
St. Petersburgh mercantile letters on 18th January, are of a pacific character.
The allies are going to establish a hospital for 2000 men at Smyrna, and an establishment for convalescents at Rhodes.
Russian reports numerous deserters from the Allies to the Russian ranks.
An Odessa letter of the 9th says, the Russians will shortly resume the offensive in the Crimea—having received the necessary reinforcements. Large bodies of Russian troops have been ordered to concentrate themselves at Perekop, with a view of attacking Eupatoria.
It was reported at Vienna on the 25th, that a battle had been fought before Sebastopol, in which the Russians were victorious—but authentic devices from Balaklava next day, contradict it
It was positively asserted that Omar Pacha's force would begin operations on the 18th Jan., by dvancing under cover of the artillery of the fleet along the coast.
The last of the Turkish convoys left Vienna on the 14th for Balaklava.
A Constantinople letter says, the French 90 gun ship, Henry 4th, has been turned into a fortance is of great use to the Allies.
New and startling cases of bad management in the British Commissariat Department were daily coming to light.
A despatch from Menschikoff dated 17th Jan. was published in St. Petersburgh on the 25th to the following effect. The siege opperations do not advance. Two successful night sorties were made on the 13th and 15th. We took 14 English, and 9 French prisoners. The allies lost a considerable number of killed. Arab despatches says that the Turks are treated with very little consideration by the allies.
H. COOKE, Agent.
THE DANUBE.—The Paris Patrie says the recent passage of the Danube by the Russians has given rise to a demand by Austria for an explanation from Russia, and orders have been sent to prevent the Russians from re-commencing a campaign on the Danube. The allied Admirals have declared all the ports of the Black Sea and Sea of Azoff in a state of strict blockade, and have captured or inid an embargo on several Caladon with provisions for the Russians.
The screw steamer Black Sea, with a sub-marine cable connecting Varna with Balaklava, had put back to Harwich, damaged.
The appointment of Ismail Pacha to the command of the army of Circassia, had produced the best results upon the troops. The Turks had opened communication with Schamyl, whose force number 7,000. Prince Pantyneak, a Polish lieutenant in the Russian Guard, had deserted to the Turks. The Turks have a report that Schamyl is dead
The Vienna Conference will probably meet on the 5th of February. Various rumors are afloat but little weight is attached to the supposition.
Russia interprets the four points thus: An solution of the Russian Protectorate over Moldavia and Wallachia, these provinces being placed under the guarantees of the five powers.—Second—Free navigation of the Danube. Third—Resumption of the treaty of 1841, to attach more completely the existence of the Ottoman Empire to the balance of Europe. Fourth—A collective guarantee of the five powers for the consecration and observance of the religious privileges of the different christian communities without distinction of form of worship.
Prussia claims a right to participate in the Vienna Conference in her capacity of a great European power and has sent a protest to the Cabinets of Vienna, Paris and London against any resolutions passed without her participation in the conference.
SARDINIA.—The troops furnished by Sardinia number 20,000 men, all armed. The Swedish army is to be placed on a war footing.
It is thought that Prussia will accede to the demand of Austria to mobilize her army should she be out-voted in the Diet
GREAT BRITAIN.—Parliament assembled on the 3d. Lord John Russell has resigned, and his resignation accepted by the Queen on the 26th. Lord John Russell explained why he took the course.
The enlistment of Swiss goes on slowly.

CITY LAND OFFICE.
I HAVE SEVERAL HOUSES IN THE FIRST Ward for sale on good terms, and I would advise those who wish to purchase a home to do so before Spring opens, for property must and will be 50 per cent higher. The demand for houses will be ahead of anything we have ever had, owing to the immense emigration from our own Eastern people. I receive letters every day, making enquiries about property, houses, &c.
I state these facts that any who have not yet obtained themselves a home, better do so at once; and if they will not take my advice, they must abide the consequences
I have also a large number of choice Lots in the First Ward, which will be sold at fair prices and on easy terms. My Office, at present, is on Wisconsin st.

A NEW
PIANO FORTE WARE-ROOM!

AMERICAN ACTION PIANO FORTES,
Manufactured by Gioner Hews, of Boston, Mass
The Patent American Action Piano Forte is distinguished for its great fullness, richness and sweetness of tone, even ease of scale, and delicacy of touch. The improvement in the Action renders it less liable to derangement, and less sensitive to variation. Numerous medals, diplomas and certificates have been received from various fairs and industrial exhibitions in different cities of the Union, from the World's Fair at London, and flattering testimonials from the profession, residents at Boston and elsewhere, among which are the following:
From the Illustrious Pianist, L. M. GOTTSCHALK, to Mr Hews, Agent at New York:
NEW YORK, Dec. 5, 1853.
MR. N. J. CURTISS—
Dear Sir, Having had the pleasure of performing upon one Hews' American Action Piano at the World's Fair in this city the present year, and other of his Pianos at your Warerooms, which afforded me much gratification, I cheerfully recommend them to the public. I am very glad of the improvement in the action. These instruments likewise are of excellent tone, owing, no doubt, to the perfection of the scales
Very Respectfully, L. M. GOTTSCHALK.
From the distinguished Pianist, WILLIAM MASON:
MR. HEWS—Having repeatedly played upon the Piano Forte manufactured by you, with the new Patent Action, I am free to acknowledge, that for certainty and elasticity of action, power, purity and equality of tone, I have never seen them surpassed in the square Piano Forte.
WILLIAM MASON.
Purchasers and lovers of music in general, are respectfully invited to call and examine these instruments. These Pianos will be sold at Boston prices, and warranted to give satisfaction in every respect.
